

FINE

8VA

8VA

DAL S'
AL FINE

These harmonics may be omitted and the notes played an octave higher.

© Áine Ní Dhúill

In 18th century Scotland and Ireland, Jacobite songs were common, supporting the cause of the defeated Stuart kings. In this one, the poet, Seán Clárach Mac Domhnaill, eagerly awaits the return from exile of Bonnie Prince Charlie. The tune is related to the Scottish Jacobite song "Will ye no come back again".